Forecast for Tuesday 03 Sep 2024

Weather: Cloudy to overcast with outbreaks of mostly light rain and drizzle at first. These will tend to clear east by dawn but it should be rather dull and humid at first, the cloud slow to break and lift. Some good spells of sunshine should develop during the morning but further cloud will roll in from the west during the evening, along with a few showers.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 5% at first but improving to 95% or more around mid-morning.

Low Cloud and visibility: Very poor visibility initially, with extensive low cloud obscuring routes above 500-600m. Cloud lifting above summits around mid-morning, the visibility becoming very good to excellent with distant hills clearly visible.
